$10,000 RAID.

Thieves Again/Burgle Whiteaway's.

SENSATIONAL ROBBERY.

The premises of Messrs. Whiteaway, Laidlaw and Co., Ltd., in Des Voeux Road Central, have been the scene of yet another daring burglary, the thieves in this instance, it is believed, making their raid in daylight.

Some time between noon on Christmas Day and the same hour yesterday morning, a gang of master-cracksmen effected an entrance to the premises and secured goods amounting in value, it is estimated, to between $8,000 and $10,000.

The thieves entered the premises by means of a back staircase which led into a disused go-down. Once there, they appear to have spent some considerable time, for their entry to the ground floor was made by no less a daring method than the boring of a huge hole through the 18 inch brick wall that lines the back of the store. This hole opens into the store some 18 to 20 ft. above the ground level, and a strong rope was used by the men for the purpose of lowering themselves down to the ground.

Once inside the store, the thieves appear to have made a bee line for that section of the gentlemen's outfitting department which contained the most expensive part of the stock, whole cases full of silk ties, handkerchiefs and mufflers being cleared. Once at these show-cases, the men were out of sight from anyone who might peer through the main entrance, for the show-cases back on to the shop windows.

Theft of Hats.

Having cleared the major portion of the stock of this department, the daring intruders directed their attention to the head-wear section, securing no fewer than nine dozen of the better quality velvet and felt hats—articles costing $12.50 and $15 each. The presence of a box of soap and other miscellaneous articles indicates that the cracksmen visited other parts of the premises, although the cupboard containing watches and fountain pens—which could easily have been forced, was left untouched. One silver cigarette case was taken from a glass-topped show case in the centre of the ground floor. This would have been a dangerous spot for the men to have remained at for any length of time, as it is in a direct line with the front entrance.

Nor was the upper storey left unmolested, the intruders stealing a number of leather suit cases with which, it is assumed, they made off with their haul from downstairs. One blanket also was taken from this department and as the handles had been cut off from a number of skipping ropes, it is believed that the rope was used for tying up the hats in the blanket.

The "China Mail" understands that the premises were not insured against burglary. Since the last burglary, which occurred about a year ago—when the burglars got away with $8,000 worth of goods, including gold-mounted fountain pens and watches—the outside of the premises have been continuously patrolled by three police watchmen—at a cost of $80 per month.

Robbery Discovered.

The burglary was discovered yesterday morning by Mr. A. O. Smith, the manager of the store. Mr. Smith paid a customary Sunday morning visit to the store for the purpose of inspecting the watchmen's time clocks and looking at any mail that may have arrived over the week-end. It was not until Mr. Smith was half way down the centre passage that he first noticed that anything was wrong. His attention was directed to a number of toys lying on the ground. Realising that they had not been there when he locked up the previous afternoon, Mr. Smith looked round, and at once noticed the empty show-cases to his immediate left. His first thought was for his safe in the CITY FIRE.

Blaze In Pedder Building.

DAMAGE ABOUT $8,000.

The ground and mezzanine floors of Pedder Building were the scene of a devastating fire which occurred in the early hours of this morning, heavy damage being incurred by the three firms occupying the premises.

The Cafe-Restaurant Parisien and Madame Flint's Ladies' Dress Salon occupy the ground floor, while the Beauty Parlor Parisien and Madame Flint's work rooms are situated on the mezzanine floor above.

The fire started in the Beauty Parlor. A thin match-board partition is thought to have soon burst into flames, this igniting a quantity of cotton wool and other highly inflammable fabrics in the work rooms.

Inquiries at the Central Fire Station this morning show that the first alarm was received at 1.12 a.m. Four engines were immediately dispatched to the scene, where it was found that huge flames were bursting out of two windows opening into the alley way between Pedder and Jardine's buildings. A ladder was rushed up the side of the building, but it was found that entry was impossible from this side of the structure.

The firemen then directed their attention to the other side of the premises, gaining an entrance through a back stairway which leads into the kitchen of the Cafe-Restaurant Parisien.

A quantity of fire hose was rushed through the corridors, but it was not until 2.18 a.m. that the flames were under way and the fire-fighters were able to leave.

Needless to say, the damage done to both the premises and the stock is very considerable. The Beauty Parlor, which was enamelled throughout in cream and gold, is burnt beyond recognition, whilst the entire contents of the work rooms has been destroyed by the fire. Practically everything in Madame Flint's shop down below has been damaged by water, whilst the entire floor of both the shop and the Cafe was under water at 10 o'clock this morning.

The alley way presented a strange sight when inspected this morning, hats, feathers, jumpers, furs and rolls of material, either half burnt or damaged by water, being strewn over the flag-stones. Two or three dress-makers' dummies, mutilated by the flames, told pathetic story, whilst mirrors, hand-bags and bottles of perfume and toilet preparations, which had been thrown out from the upper story, were also to be seen in profusion.

The Cafe Restaurant Parisien was not damaged to any serious extent, the actual fire having been confined to the north side of the building.

It is understood that the damage caused by the fire is in the neighbourhood of $8,000.

office upstairs, and proceeding forward, he was confronted with the huge hole in the brick wall—a hole that told its own story.

It is understood that no attempt was made to open the safe and this, from the intruders' point of view was unfortunate, for several thousands of dollars in cash and a number of solid gold watches were deposited therein. Satisfied as to the security of the safe, Mr. Smith immediately phoned the Police and Det. Sub-Inspector Lane, who has taken charge of the case, was soon on the scene.

It is believed that the crime was perpetrated during daylight, as anyone using torches inside would, in all probability, have been seen.

A search of the go-down revealed one of the suit-cases taken from the up-stairs department and a large hammer and chisel, with which it is assumed, the hole in the wall was made.

Mr. Smith said that he had no reason to suspect any member of his Chinese staff. This opinion was rather substantiated by the fact that anyone knowing the stock would have almost certainly made a point of securing the contents of one particular show-case (also out of sight of the main entrance) which contained a quantity of valuable goods that had not yet been put on display.

WAR IN NORTH.

Chang Calls Military Conference.

ATTACK TO BE MET.

Hankow, Dec. 26.
General Chang Kai-shek has called a military conference at Nanchang.

It is reported to be for the purpose of making preparations against the coming attack by the Fengtien party.

He ordered the organisation of forty divisions of picked troops to be used against the attackers.

NORTH ON MOVE.

Peking, Dec. 24.
A message from Tsingtao states that the Pohai squadron of the Eighth Shantung Army Corps is actively preparing to move southward against the Cantonese. Pi Shou-chen has already gone from Tsingtao to Nanking.

Yi Shih-pao states that the Koumichun in Hoi-an has lined up with Pang Chung-chieh's troops and captured Lungmen-chieh south-east of Loyang.

MORE HOSTILE MEETINGS.

Hankow, Dec. 26.
Native pastors in most places in the native city did not function at Christmas services.

An incident occurred on Christmas Eve at the Lutheran Mission in the (Hankow) native city when a body of anti-Christians invaded the premises and removed bibles and hymn-books from the walls, etc.

Three anti-Christian and anti-British meetings were held in BRITAIN'S POLICY.

The Memorandum Now Published.

Shanghai, Dec. 27.
A lengthy British memorandum on China was issued to-day by the British Legation and the Consulates throughout China.

The Hong Kong Government has a copy.

(Owing to the late hour at which the above cable was received and the holiday publishing time, it has not been possible to secure a copy of the memorandum for publication in to-day's "China Mail.")

Wuchang city, Nanyang city and Hankow city this morning.

It is estimated that 5,000 were at the meeting in the (Hankow) native city and about the same number at Wuchang. At Nanyang, the speakers numbered about forty, representative of every section of the Government and the Army.

ANTI-FOREIGN AGITATION.

Shanghai, Dec. 24.
Anti-Christian societies have been springing up lately in many centres, where the anti-foreign movement is very strong.

There is much talk of meetings to be held locally.

STRIKE COMMITTEE.

Movement to be Wound Up
On Jan. 1.

From a well-informed source the "China Mail" learns that a decision has been made to wind up the affairs of the "Canton-Hong Kong Strike Committee" as from January 1, 1927.

This body, of course, is the highest organisation in the strike and boycott movement composed, it is claimed, of delegates representative of all Labour Unions.

The "Wah Kiu Yat Po" learns that the Transport Union (i.e. cargo boat workers) at the port of Hoihow are all on strike with the result that trade with Hong Kong is interrupted.

the police are not apprehensive, but a Hankow report states that anti-Christian activities are intensifying. Agitators broke up two Christmas entertainments, one at the Wesleyan Mission Girls' School and the other at the Blind School.

CYCLE SMASHED.

Police Sergeant Badly Injured.

ISLAND ROAD ACCIDENT.

With compound fractures in three different parts of his right leg, Sergeant A. George of the Hong Kong Police is now lying in the Government Civil Hospital in a serious condition as the result of a motorcycle collision on the round-the-island road yesterday with car No. 347 belonging to Mr. Gubbay of Messrs. E. D. Sassoon & Co.

Sergeant George was patrolling on an A.J.S. combination at the time, going from Stanley Police Station towards Repulse Bay.

So heavy was the impact that the cycle was completely smashed and the rider was thrown badly to the ground.

Sergeant George was at once conveyed to hospital. On examination it was found that his right leg had been broken above and below the knee and above the ankle. An operation was performed on him yesterday afternoon.

The collision occurred on a short round turn, so sharp that it almost resembles a semi-circle. It is by no means an easy locality to negotiate, coming up the easy gradient from Stanley. Sergeant George was then about 300 yards above Stanley and the road there is about 22 feet wide.

RABIES SEQUEL.

MILITARY DOGS NOW UNDER OBSERVATION.

Following the death from hydrophobia of Gunner Patrick Murphy of the Royal Artillery, Yeemum last week, an examination has been made of all dogs at the local military barracks. Four dogs from Wellington Barracks and another dog from Murray Barracks have been set to the Kennedy Town home for observation. The report states laconically that this action was taken by Army medical officers "in consequence of a dog bite."

Miss Joan Douglas, the daughter of Mr. Douglas, No. 69, The Peak, has been bitten by a black and white terrier near Jardine's Corner on the Peak. She was immediately treated by Dr. G. D. R. Black and the dog is being examined.

An Indian has been admitted to the Government Civil Hospital as the result of being attacked by a white mongrel in Kennedy Road, the owner of which has not been traced. This dog has also been impounded.

BAG SNATCHERS.

TWO MORE CASES DURING HOLIDAYS.

Two more cases of handbag snatching have been reported during the holidays, one of the victims being a Portuguese lady resident in Kowloon.

Mrs. Cunha, of No. 5, Humphreys Avenue was going up the staircase from the street early on Friday morning, when a Chinese thief stole up from behind and seized her handbag. The value (together with the money contained) was $36.

Near the Dairy Farm yesterday, a Chinese married woman was relieved of her bag by a snatcher in Wyndham Street. The value of the contents was $75.

Armed Robbery.
From Kowloon City an armed robbery is reported in which the gang used screw-drivers and a chopper as weapons with which to terrorise the occupants.

This occurred yesterday. After putting the lady occupant in the kitchen the gang of four ransacked the house and made off with loot totalling $191.60.

In the latter case, the invaders distributed anti-British literature. A foreign missionary who attempted to intervene was seized and carried through the streets, being man-handled and badly injured.

The anti-foreign agitation and boycott is also strengthening at Hankow, as well as elsewhere. Foreign women and children have been advised to leave Kuling (Kulung). All foreigners are in readiness to evacuate Hankow. It is feared also that they will be compelled to evacuate Hunan.

MACAO RACE.

Record Time In Heavy Seas.

TAVY II WINS.

With exceptionally heavy weather throughout, a record was created by boats taking part in the Christmas race from the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club to Macao and back. Starting from the Club at 7.30 a.m. yesterday, the leading boats got back in truly remarkable time. All who completed the course were back shortly after midnight with in record time. "La Cigale" passing the mark just before 8 p.m. with "Lady Jean" a minute behind.

The winner of the race on corrected time was "Tavy II" which arrived home shortly before 11 p.m. and was within her handicap by twenty minutes over "Lady Jean"—twenty minutes in over 71 miles!

At times it was blowing force 6 (about 40 miles an hour) and this, added to the heavy sea, gave the boats a very severe test. "Coquette" lost her rudder in the course of the race but managed to put in to Tai O whence she was towed in this morning.

"Brenda," the boat which gave up shortly after 10 a.m., got into difficulties in the heavy seas. One of her sails was ripped up and a considerable quantity of water shipped. The helmsman decided that the only course was to proceed to calmer waters and survey the damage and prospects. It was decided not to continue in the race.

The time made by the leading boats is easily a record over a period of twenty years' sailing in the last century when this race was an annual event. The best times made then by boats of even 50 tons was 16 and 18 hours for the passage.

The boats and their helmsmen were—

"La Cigale" (N. Croucher); "U. and I" (H. S. Rouse); "Norseman" (C. L. Edwards); "Coquette" (H. Dryer); "Brenda" (T. King); "Feathers" (Dr. M. Nicholson); "Queen Bee" (Capt. Howard); "Dorothy" (E. S. Carter); "Lady Jean" (H. Pearce); "Tavy II" (Surg. Lieut. M. Brown).

The Race.

"Queen Bee" and "Lady Jean" took the southerly route. The breeze freshened as the boats went across the harbour from the start and it was blowing force 5 at Capsicum. Outside the harbour, the wind and sea increased and boats made very good time.

"U. and I" was first through Capsicum, followed by "La Cigale" and "Feathers." "U. and I" was ahead with The Brothers in less than two hours' sailing. Once clear of the land, the wind against the tide made a very bad sea. With the wind from the North it was a reach across to Macao with the seas on the star-board quarter. Very good time was made. "La Cigale" going rather to northward, had to drop considerably; "Feathers" kept a middle course between "U. and I" and "La Cigale," followed by "Coquette."

The Day's Surprise.
When the leading boats by the north were nearing the mark, they were rather surprised to see "Lady Jean," who had gone by the south and rounded the mark, making good way on the return. "Queen Bee," which had also gone by the south, did not do nearly so well. She went back also by the southern route, but "Lady Jean" steered for the north.

It was closed-hauled work all the way across to Lantau with a very short, steep sea and it was obvious that the boats with the longest water line would fare

MAN WHO BROKE THE SILENCE

INTERESTING FIGURES.

CO., LTD.

The women who do not readily win the admiration of the opposite sex now-days are those who are full-blooded, bright-eyed, energetic and vivacious. Men realise that such are the women who make happy wives, cheery companions, healthy mothers, and they prize them accordingly.

The corresponding attractiveness of some men is due to the same cause. The thin, listless, pallid woman, and the emaciated man who seems to lack mental alertness and physical strength are usually victims of that all too common malady, Anæmia, or poverty of blood.

Watch yourself, and if your energy and attraction are diminished you will find that you have other anæmic symptoms as well. Your lips are pale. Your appetite is fickle. You easily tire. A little exertion, such as running up stairs, makes your heart beat distressingly hard.

All this can be set right and you can be as full of vitality and robustness as many of those you envy if you deal with your trouble in the right way. What is required to remedy an anæmic condition is correct tonic treatment for the blood. And it is precisely this that is given by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These Pills purify and enrich the blood; by rapidly increasing the quantity of the blood they actually make new blood.

By this way, through the blood, they revitalize the nerves, invigorate the digestive organs, restore the appetite, impart fresh strength and vigour to the whole system.

Innumerable anæmic, despondent, nervous and weak women throughout the world have been restored to the joy of abundant health by the revivifying powers of this famous blood and nerve tonic. Why not begin your own restoration without delay? Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are obtainable from medicine vendors everywhere, or post free from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai. But remember nothing else is just as good as

SHANGHAI STRIKE.

FRENCH TRAM LINE WALK OUT.

TRAFFIC SUSPENDED.

Shanghai, December 22.—All motormen, conductors and inspectors employed by the French Tram Company, operating in the French Concession, Shanghai, and numbering between two and three hundred men, yesterday morning declared a unanimous strike without warning to the managers. Traffic on all lines operated by the Company was suspended during the entire day, although cars from the Chinese Tram Company were diverted through the French Concession to relieve the congestion partially.

M. Mornu, Administrative Sub-Manager of the Company last night informed the "China Press" that the strikers had walked out without presenting any definite demands to the Company, although it is understood that they are striking for higher pay.

The total loss to the Company per diem through the failure of the trams to operate is placed at between $5,000 and $7,000.

The morning rush crowd, unaware of the strike, jammed the sidewalks at the tram stops yesterday waiting in vain for cars, and finally resorted to rickshas, buses and other vehicles to reach the business district.

M. Mornu spoke optimistically of the outcome of the strike, declaring that it had not yet been necessary to adopt emergency measures, such as placing Annamite troops, who are specially trained to operate the cars, on duty, inasmuch as the difference was expected to be smoothed out at conferences to be held this morning.

COMING FILMS.

ERIC VON STROHEIM'S "GREED."

"Greed," which is to show here, shortly, is a picture of a thousand and in an excellent critique of the film, the "Daily Telegraph" of London has the following to say:—

Striking evidence in support of the claim that the "silent drama" can portray the most subtle shades of character is provided by Eric von Stroheim's "Greed." This homily against the folly of giving rein to the miserly instinct holds the spectator's interest for the best part of two hours. It is not a pretty story, but it has been put together by a master hand, and has something of the ruthless realism of Zola.

From the very first scene there is an inescapable suggestion of impending tragedy, which deepens as the play unfolds. The courting of Trina by her unimaginative, prosaic admirer takes place amid surroundings that bode little good for their future happiness.

A gradual deterioration of the wife's character as the result of winning a large prize in a lottery, is skillfully shown by a series of unobtrusive touches, the cumulative effect of which prepares us for the worst. Murder is in the air.

The woman has to pay the penalty, and her husband, who, in a moment of exasperation, has taken her life, becomes a hunted fugitive. In the last scene of all we see him, after struggling across the desert sands, lying down to await death by the side of the one-time friend and rival whom circumstances have converted into his bitter enemy. Both are perishing of thirst, while the useless gold which each had coveted so fiercely lies scattered and blood-stained at their feet.

This remarkable film is extremely well acted, especially by the exponents of the three principal characters, Gibson Howland, Jean Herscholt, and Zasu Pitts.

"Confessions of a Queen."

The King, in "Confessions of a Queen," is in a quandary. The influence of good is beckoning him on one side in the form of his Queen, a beautiful regal woman of the cold type, while that of evil coaxes him on the other in the form of the vivacious Sapphira, a woman of the world. A much stronger will than King Christian would have paused—not knowing which one to follow.

The King is delightfully played in the Seastrom production by Lewis Stone. The Queen Fredericka is depicted by Alice Terry, and the alluring Sapphira by Helena d'Algy.

John Bowers plays the important role of Prince Alexis and Joseph Dowling and Eugene Becker are also seen in the production. Agnes Christine Johnson and from "Kings in Exile," by Alphonse Daudet.

STABBING INCIDENT.

MR. STIRLING'S EFFORT TO SAVE WOMAN.

The "Straits Times" understands that Mr. W. G. Stirling, of the Chinese Protectorate, who was stabbed in the Protectorate by a Chinese, is progressing favourably. The wife of the Chinese, who was also stabbed, is still in a weak condition, and the Chinese himself is progressing favourably.

It seems that Mr. Stirling received his wound in attempting to prevent the Chinese from stabbing his wife, who had refused to live with him.

The Chinese will be charged with attempted murder.

AT THE QUEEN'S.

"STELLA DALLAS" TO-DAY TILL WEDNESDAY.

One of the best releases of the year is "Stella Dallas" which is to be shown this week. It is the story of a mother's sacrifice for her daughter and was filmed in London only as recently as October.

It is in many ways a remarkable picture and carries the hall mark of extremely good acting on the part of Belle Bennett and Lois Moran as the mother and daughter respectively. The film has "made" these two actresses who were hitherto practically unknown.

The "mother love" theme, a la American has been so generally mauled, that it is a treat to find in "Stella Dallas" something different, for here it reaches artistic heights by means which never descend to bathos.

Stella marries Stephen, but Stella is common and in love with Ed, while Stephen is "quality" and in love with Helen. Laurel is a child of the marriage and when Stephen is appointed to a good post in New York, Stella refuses to go with him. Such is the opening tale.

Of this picture Elinor Glyn says "It will wring every mother's heart."

WORLD THEATRE.

"THE BEAUTY PRIZE" TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

Viola Dana scores again in the "The Beauty Prize." This delightful human interest film was made from the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name by Nina Wilcox Putnam.

The story is an excellent mixture of comedy and drama, combining these elements to splendid effect. The star plays the role of Connie Du-Bois, a New York manicurist, who is mistaken for a society girl when her mother takes care of a wealthy home during the owner's trip abroad.

A Broadway shik acquaintance induces her to enter a state beauty contest in order to get money so that her ailing father may have expert surgical attendance. Her sweetheart back home objects to this, but Connie goes right ahead. She wins the state title, and enters the national contest. She is also the victor in this, but gives away the $2,000 prize when she believes she has won it under the false pretence of being a society girl.

Her spirit broken, she disappears to avoid publicity, and works as a manicurist in a city. She is recognised and is invited to a Chamber of Commerce dinner just about in time to keep from starving. But she is first led to the radio to give a speech, and is able to do nothing but call out for George, the home town lover, and he, in the transmitting room, hears her.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Managua, Dec. 25.

Two men armed with heavy knives attempted to assassinate President Diaz. They attacked the carriage as the President was returning from a social function. President Diaz alighted unharmed but his driver was cut to pieces.—Reuter.

MACAO RACE.

best. "Feathers" showed up remarkably well and carried all her sail, whereas some of the other boats had to reef down. "La Cigale" was making good efforts to get up with "Lady Jean," but the Chinese rigged boat seemed to be enjoying the weather and made wonderful progress.

The two boats went through Capsicum together just before darkness fell. "U. and I" being then a little westward of the Brothers with "Feathers" some distance ahead. "La Cigale" eventually reached the Yacht Club just before eight o'clock. "Lady Jean" being only a minute behind her. "Feathers" went through Capsicum third but "U. and I" outskied her in the harbour and reached the Yacht Club about 9.45, followed by "Feathers" twenty minutes later. Other boats came in during the night.

Tavy 11, the winner, took the south course on the way back. The following is the order in which boats arrived back at the Yacht Club:-

Boat	Finishing Time	Position
La Cigale	1:53:10	1
Lady Jean	1:54:05	2
U. and I.	1:59:00	3
Feathers	1:59:18	4
Norseman	1:59:43	5
Queen Bee	1:59:51	6
Tavy	1:59:59	7
Dorothy	12:11:50	8

Coquette did not finish.

Brenda did not finish.

The handicaps were from "La Cigale" the fastest boat as "scratch":

U. and I. receives 1 hour, 11 minutes.

Coquette 1 hr. 40 mins. 35 secs.

Feathers 2 hrs. 7 mins. 2 1/2 secs.

Norseman 2 hrs. 10 mins. 10 secs.

Queen Bee 2 hrs. 33 mins. 50 secs.

Dorothy 11 hrs. 33 mins. 20 secs.

Lady Jean 3 hrs. 27 mins. 5 secs.

Brenda 3 hrs. 27 mins. 5 secs.

Tavy 11 6 hrs. 30 mins. 30 secs.

Previous Wins.

"La Cigale," the first boat to return, won the race in 1924, her elapsed time being 18 hours, 54 minutes, 55 seconds.

Last year, the cruisers were drifting in the harbour all night through a calm. "U. and I" won in 22 hours, 10 minutes, 22 seconds.

The arrangements this year provided for all possible contingencies. Mr. A. W. van Andel had a tug near Macao for boats in distress. As in the past, a junk with the Club ensign was placed as a mark boat, one mile outside Macao's most outward beacon in the dredged (entrance) channel.

Lifebelts were provided for each person on the yachts and each boat carried two blue flares.

Lights on the Macao junk and a boat to be hailed by competitors on the finishing line (with the timekeeper's gun) were also put up for navigation at night.

FAR EAST TRADE.

FRENCH SHIPOWNER'S SUGGESTIONS.

JOINT EUROPEAN ACTION.

The chairman of the Messageries Maritimes, Mr. Georges Philippart, and a member of the French Academy of Marine, in an interesting speech on Far Eastern problems before the Franco-Amérique Committee, dealt with the political and trade relations existing between France and these countries, and made suggestions concerning the general policy to be followed by the French Government towards the problems.

Mr. Philippart laid special stress upon the progress made by Japan, and pointed out the unique situation of that nation "which, while maintaining intact the virtues, enthusiasms, and beliefs of old times, adopted the methods of modern science and technicality." He set forth the importance of the new state of things introduced in the Far East on the expiration of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance in 1921, pointing out that the development of Japan had far-reaching consequences, as "now other Asiatic peoples had also entered the way of nationalism. In this connection Mr. Philippart's opinion is that the white race nations with interests in the Far East should unite their efforts to counter-balance this pan-Asiatic move."

As to French interests, Mr. Philippart expressed regret at the relatively small extent of trade relations, but said they were steadily increasing. He at the time warned them that the success of French expansion was closely connected with Colonial development there, and said no effort should be spared to increase and improve such valuable element of national patrimony. There was, however, no question of French Imperialism in this connection, for there was no exaggerated ambition in that direction, in view of the big difficulties that are encountered by France in that respect. "Those difficulties," Mr. Philippart added, are only of a transitory nature and, whatever may be their importance, they should not bring about any doubt as to the future of France. France has and should have a future in the East."

XMAS WOES.

A SERIES OF HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS.

ONE CHINESE KILLED.

Carelessness on the part of several Chinese during the Christmas holidays resulted in a series of accidents, one of which was fatal.

From the servants' quarters on the 1st floor of No. 65, Macdonnell Road, a Chinese man accidentally fell into the street and was killed. His body was removed to the mortuary.

Then there was a Chinese woman who also fell into the street. She was putting out clothes on a bamboo to dry, when she tumbled over the (1st floor) verandah of No. 131, First Street, in the western district. She is now being cared for at the Government Civil Hospital.

Also inmates of the hospital are a coolie who got entangled between 2 trucks on the Shaikwan Road, near Bay View police station; and a Chinese earth coolie who was hurt by a fall of earth at Morrison Hill.

POPE AND FASHIONS.

London, Dec. 18.

According to a Rome correspondent, in receiving the Roman Association of Men's Catholic Associations, the Pope said that they should participate in the crusade against the immoral fashions and irreverent manners of modern women. "All who possess a sense of nobility and human dignity should try to put a barrier to the tendency to modern fashions, which are the seed of countless catastrophes." — Wireless through Reuter.

A NATION'S GRIEF.

LOCAL OBSERVANCES BY JAPANESE.

THE EMPEROR'S DEATH.

Japanese residents met at the local offices of the Japanese consul-late yesterday morning to consider the manner in which they would observe national mourning for the death of the Emperor.

At the conclusion of the meeting,
a telegram of condolence was sent to Tokyo.
It was decided that, until Dec. 30, all Japanese will hold their national omnibus from their residences, and offices.

For fifty days from the day of death, mourning bands, it was decided, would be worn by all Japanese residents.

On the day of the funeral (not yet announced), there will be a meeting at the residence of the Consul General (Mr. Y. Murakami).

Mr. Murakami wishes, through the "China Mail," to acknowledge with gratitude the sympathies of H.K. the Governor, H.E. the Officer
Commanding, and H.E. the Admiral
Commanding the China Squadron, conveyed through their A.D.C.'s.

MONKEY FLESH.

KILLED IN HONG KONG FOR FOOD.

At the fortnightly meeting of the Sanitary Board on Tuesday Mr.
J. P. Dargatzis will ask the following questions:

1.—(a) Will the President be good enough to cause inquiries to be made into the truth or otherwise of the report that monkeys are killed in Hong Kong and their flesh sold as food for human consumption?

(b) If it is found that monkey flesh is sold for human food, will the Government favourably consider the enacting of a bye-law prohibiting such sale of monkey-flesh?

2.—(a) Is the President aware that dissatisfaction exists at the length of time taken in the consideration of applications for installing water closets and is it not possible to expedite such consideration in future?

(b) Is it a fact that, when applications for installing water closets are refused, the answer to the applications is usually given in a stereotyped form without any explicit reasons being stated for such refusal?

(c) Is it not practicable in future to state the grounds on which an application is turned down so as to enable applicants to meet any technical or other objections with a view to a reconsideration of their applications?

ECHO OF "MR. A."

WILLIAM CHARLES HOBBS OUT OF JAIL.

William Charles Hobbs, the elderly London solicitor who figured in the "Mr. A." case and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for conspiracy to defraud, was released from jail in mail week.

"Mr. A." afterwards disclosed to Sir Hari Singh, the young Indian rajah and now a ruling prince, paid $150,000 to compensate a Mr. Robinson, who surprised Sir Hari with Robinson's wife in Paris. Hobbs acted as solicitor for Robinson; he tried to escape to Holland, but was arrested at the coast, in possession of a suit-case full of notes.

JAPAN'S GREAT LOSS.

"In the midst of life we are in death." In the midst of the great Christmas festival the hearts of Westerners will feel sympathy for the Japanese in their bereavement through the death of their beloved Emperor. For over a month thousands of Japanese of every rank and station have daily attended the ancient shrines praying for the Emperor's recovery. From week to week—and latterly from day to day—hopes were raised that these prayers would be answered, only to be frustrated by His Majesty's frequent relapses. Now he has been called to his fathers, and the nation is plunged into grief.

Of few Oriental rulers hitherto has the solemnity of death so touched the hearts of Occidental peoples, as the passing of Emperor Yoshihito. He became to his own people, and to the outside world, as well, what King Edward was when he succeeded to a Court which, although pure and good, was hedged around by a rugged conservatism that nothing could shake. Like King Edward the Emperor Yoshihito became—so far as his usually feeble health permitted—one of the people taking the lead in every progressive movement, thinking only of how to elevate the status of his country, looking only to the benefit of his subjects. His rule was nothing if not kindly in the best sense of the word. His passing at the comparatively early age of 47 years will be mourned by Westerners no less than by his own subjects, by all of whom he was revered and loved to a degree practically unknown in the previous history of Oriental nations.

In regard to the new ruler, the Emperor Hirohito, the London "Daily Express" as recently as December 10 described him as a fine example of "the liberal-minded type of new Japan." Concluding its editorial the "Express" called attention to the great responsibility of Japan in the Orient and said:—"We are convinced that the high destiny of the great Empire can be attained only through its learning from the great lessons of Western culture." Thus, whilst we mourn with Japan in her loss of a popular and democratic ruler, we can rejoice with her inasmuch as her welfare is assured as long as the Emperor Hirohito is spared to live and guide the destinies of his people.

Sales for Males.

This, by all the tokens, is the season of the after-Christmas sale. At this time of the year, drapers, succumbing to an attack of benevolence or a sudden fierce of dislike of their stock-in-trade, proceed with passionate haste to dispose of their merchandise to the multitude at prices so reduced as to seem almost invisible. But why not an occasional sale of something in which men are really interested? The tobacco manufacturers, for instance, might hold a sale six times a week; yet, whoever heard of breath-taking bargains in cigarettes or sensational cuts in the prices of cigars? The same applies to golf clubs, season tickets, fountain pens and whisky, all of which are no less necessary to the average man than pyjamas and under-vests. Why not stimulate man's acquisitive sense by offering him now and again all these things at "less than cost price"? Indeed, it seems as though there were no industry that would not benefit by following the drapers' footsteps. A smashing reduction in the price of chops for one week only would come as a blessing to many, whilst the periodic offer of cabbages at cost price would bring considerable extra custom to the greengrocer. There is much concern at the moment about the slump in trade. Let those interested ask themselves whether they cannot do as the drapers do, and by the exercise of tact, diplomacy and advertisement, persuade large numbers of people to buy, at reduced prices, articles which they would never dream of buying otherwise. Surely such a course would stimulate trade.

LABOUR DISPUTES.

ARBITRATION FAVOURED BY CANTON?

A HANKOW GOVT. ORDER.

In view of the recent wave of labour agitation at Hankow, the Wu-Han cities and other parts of Hupoh province and particularly with regard to the astonishing demands put forward by some unions, it is interesting to note the policy now adopted at Canton, that of closer restriction by the authorities.

Is this policy spreading northwards? The "Canton Gazette," following the announcement of arbitration tribunals in Kwangtung, says:—

In order to mediate labour troubles in Wu-Han and other places in Hupoh province, the Hupoh Provincial Government has organised a Committee for deciding disputes between workers and employers.

"Must Be Obeyed."

The following regulations have been drawn up:—

In case of dispute between workers and employers, in which mediation is of no avail, the matter should be brought to this Committee for investigation and decision.

Within the three days after the receipt of the petition, this Committee will assemble all its members for the investigation of the case, and then call the parties concerned for a final discussion. Decisions reached must be obeyed.

This Committee will arbitrate according to the statement of the parties concerned. Written statement will be used when it is necessary.

Two Thirds Majority.

No arbitration should be made without a general meeting of the arbitrators from all organised bodies which form this Committee, and no arbitration should be decided without having been passed by the delegates of two-thirds of the organised bodies of which this Committee is composed.

In case of inability to attend the meeting on account of business, arbitrators of this Committee may be allowed to send their representatives who will have the full power to act in their stead.

Penalty for Absence.

The arbitrators of this Committee should not be absent intentionally, otherwise the organised bodies to which they belong, will be ordered to elect new members for this purpose.

No representatives should be withdrawn by the organised bodies without cause. Before new representatives are elected, this Committee must be first informed of the change.

No one is allowed to participate in the meeting of this Committee, when arbitration is to be made, except the parties concerned and their representatives.

The above regulations will be enforced as soon as same are passed and may be modified should there be any omission.

TEN CASUALTIES.

3 DISASTROUS FIRES IN CANTON.

THREAT TO BURGLARS.

Three disastrous fires occurred in Canton city during the Christmas holidays, one with fatal results.

The first was at Sai Kwa Yuen, an open space where six matchboxes used as barracks were completely destroyed. This was on Dec. 24.

On Christmas morning fourteen shops were gutted in the western part of the city through a fire starting in the early hours in a cake bakery.

At about the same time a Chinese hotel on the western bund was also involved in another blaze. This was attended by ten casualties.

Two persons were burned to death through being asleep at the time while five others escaped with serious injuries. The other three were rescued, but not without having been in considerable danger.

Fires and burglaries are always rife at this time of the year. Canton's Police Commissioner has notified that the death penalty will be meted out to burglars convicted during the winter.

DR. C. C. WU.

A Speech on Anti-Foreignism.

SUGGESTED SOLUTION.

China's Desires For Many Friends.

Dr. Wu Chao-cha, M.A., LL.B., son of the late Dr. Wu Ting-fang who was formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Southern Government and Mayor of Canton, was the speaker at a tiffin at the Union Club of China, there being a very good attendance of members and their friends.

In introducing the speaker, Mr. R. Calder Marshall, chairman of the club, said that:

The Decreasing World.
"To our forefathers, international relations were of importance only in so far as contiguous states were concerned, but to-day owing to the great facilities for travel and the speeding up of all means of transport, all countries throughout the world are neighbouring countries and we are, therefore, in this generation, very much interested in the study of international relations with all countries."

A couple of nights ago, I was looking at comparative scale maps, showing how, since 1800, the cutting of the Suez Canal, rapid steam transit and finally the airship had by lessening the time of transit between various points, reduced the map in 1926 to about 1/30th of the size in 1800. This propinquity, of course, brings with it many additional problems which did not exist in 1800 but, at the same time, it brings the solution for increased facilities for travel mean more contacts and if we use these contacts aright and establish closer and more friendly intercourse and have a freer exchange of thought and opinion we shall have a greater appreciation of each other's difficulties and aspirations and there will be no room for misunderstanding or, if misunderstandings do arise, frank and friendly explanations will soon readjust matters. Though we are all nationalists and love our countries, we know that what is best for one country must ultimately be best for all. I do not mean transient benefit but true and lasting progress.

The Wish for Peace.
"Now-a-days, no one can be a disinterested spectator of the affairs of other countries for, what affects one, affects all as is indicated by sensitive barometer of the money market of the world. What we want is that this barometer should register 'Set Fair' and that commerce should flow normally without excessive fluctuation due to abnormal and unsettled conditions. A few weeks ago, Mr. Lampson speaking here said 'All we want is to be able to pursue our lawful business in peace and security.' That is all any of us want anywhere in the world and if we have that we shall be satisfied."

Since Dr. Wu's return to China he has held many high administrative governmental positions and has gained much experience and we shall, I know, be interested in what he has to tell us.

Dr. Wu's Reply.

Dr. Wu, in response, said that he heartily endorsed the statement that speeches after dinner were crimes but that those after luncheon were vices. (Laughter). He thanked the members of the Club for their invitation to tiffin and recalled the fact that the last time he attended the Union Club it was in another building. The present quarters were far more comfortable and certainly more luxurious than the others. The prosperity of the Union Club of China was a good sign of international understanding and friendship. The business man in China unfortunately had very few opportunities to get into touch and come together, particularly on social lines, with his Chinese friends, his time seeming to be more engaged and occupied in the buying and selling of goods and chattels and in the incoming and outgoing of dollars and cents, particularly the incoming, so that a Club such as this gave an opportunity of coming into contact with outside business. This, said Dr. Wu, was very encouraging and important. It was a good thing. Aside from the social contact, there was the political understanding which was equally as important.

Speaking as a citizen of China and a member of that political party which is being spoken about so often nowadays, the Kuomintang, will you please allow me to say that we, as a party and as a nation, want to be friends with all foreign nations," said Dr. Wu. (Applause). "We have no exclusion of jealousy with any single country. We want to be friends with everybody. As individuals, as a party and as a nation we DIOCESAN SCHOOL.

BOYS SING CAROLS FOR DR. INGRAM.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.

On Christmas Eve about twenty boys of the Diocesan Boys' School went to the Bishop's House, St. Paul's College, where His Lordship the Bishop of London was dining and sang carols accompanied by handbells. Mr. F. Mason conducted and at the beginning and end of the singing Mr. E. C. Thomas played a peal on eight tubular bells. It is hoped that the School will develop the art of bell ringing and thus add to its many activities.

On Christmas Day, the Headmaster (the Rev. W. T. Featherstone, M.A.) and Mrs. Featherstone, the resident staff and the thirty-six boarders remaining in school for Christmas, had tiffin together, and later, together with half of the School servants, went to the circus at Kowloon, an event which was greatly enjoyed.

JAVA 'QUAKE.

want to have as many friends as possible.

The Obstacle to Friendship.

Unfortunately, there is a certain obstacle to complete the friendship between China and the great Powers. I refer to the treaties. One of the Shanghai foreign dailies took me to task, a few days ago, on account of an indiscreet speech I made recently. In that, I tried to give the Chinese point of view in regard to the treaties. I did not try to incite anti-foreignism, as I was accused of. It is foolish to conceal from ourselves facts and facts that foreigners have to face in the Chinese attitude towards the so-called unequal treaties.

When analysed, these are reduced to two privileges—extraterritoriality and a conventional tariff. They are no doubt valuable privileges for foreigners in China, but when we come to look closely in these days, their importance is greatly over-emphasised. Conditions now are very different from 80 or 90 years ago. The privileges of extraterritoriality have not been able to prevent foreigners from having to remove almost wholesale from Chinese cities in the interior. The conventional tariff has not been able to give foreigners in the last two or three years as much business and profit as they would like and, indeed, it has caused considerable losses to some foreign firms. You will agree with me that these privileges which looked so very valuable 80 years ago are not so important or valuable to-day and, with the present tide of rising nationalism in China, these treaties are obstacles to cordial friendship which we should like to see exist.

"I think you agree with me also that the fundamental alteration or revision of the old treaties is necessary. The question has often been asked me 'What can we do now? There is no government in China. If we want to make the changes, whom shall we negotiate with?' Pertinent questions indeed. In regard to this point I have a practical suggestion to make. It seems to me that the foreign Powers may do one or both of these two things.

The Way to Do It.

If there is a government which controls a portion of China and which you think will control the whole of China one of these days you can at once come to an understanding with that government on a regional basis or a declaration can be made by the foreign governments that, as soon as a government exists in China, reorganised by the whole of the country and able to maintain peace and order throughout the Republic, you will at once make the alterations in the treaties which the Chinese people desire. That mode of declaration had been resorted to before and has these two advantages. In the first place, it is not necessary for 16 to 20 big and small Powers to come to an agreement before anything can be done; any one country can make a declaration of policy. In the second place, there is always the suspicion in the Chinese mind that the foreigner is rather reluctant to give up the old privileges so if a foreigner or any foreign country can make a declaration vis-a-vis of these treaties, it would remove the last obstacle to friendship and a substantial understanding." (Applause).

JAPAN'S GRIEF.

Passing of Emperor
Yoshihito.

DEATH DURING XMAS.

Tokyo, Dec. 25. The Emperor is fighting for breath.

An important announcement is expected momentarily. It is officially announced that the opening of the Diet has been postponed until December 28.

Tokyo, Dec. 25. His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor, died at 1.25 this morning.

Scene at Bedside.

Tokyo, Dec. 25. The Empress, Prince Regent, Crown Princess, the Premier and others were present at the bedside when the Emperor breathed his last.

A sacred ceremony was held later at Hiyama at which the Regent's accession to the Throne was formally announced.

The Diet opening has been postponed.

Owing to the suspension of commercial business, it is feared the Emperor's death will strike a heavy financial blow, as the year end is always very busy.

Career in Brief.

Yoshihito, 122nd Emperor of Japan, third son of the Emperor Meiji (Mutsuhito), was born August 31, 1879, at Tokyo. The Prince was physically somewhat weak during his early life and Marquis Tadaya Nakayama and Marquisess Nakayama were appointed his guardians.

On the eighth anniversary of his birth the Prince was proclaimed heir apparent, the first of several sons of the Emperor Meiji having died in infancy. In September 1887 the Prince commenced attending the Peers' school and on November 5, 1889 he was declared Imperial Crown Prince.

In 1892 the Crown Prince was appointed to the rank of a first lieutenant in the Imperial army, and two years later left the Peers' School to continue his studies at the Palace under private tutors. In 1895 he was promoted to the rank of captain, and in 1897 took his seat in the House of Peers.

In 1898 he was promoted to the rank of major of infantry and appointed a lieutenant-commander in the Imperial Navy.

On May 10, 1900 the Crown Prince married Sadako, fourth daughter of the late Prince Mitsuaki Kujo, and on April 29, 1901 a son, Hirohito, was born, followed by a second son, Prince Yasuhito, on June 25, 1902, and a third, Prince Nobuhito, on January 3, 1905.

In 1903 the Crown Prince was promoted colonel in the army and captain in the navy and in 1909 lieutenant-general and vice-admiral. On July 30, 1912, at the moment of the demise of his father, the Crown Prince ascended the throne, but, owing to the national mourning, the formal ceremony of enthronement did not take place until November 1914.

In the following year a fourth son, Prince Takahito, was born on December 2.

Late Emperor's Family. Sadako, the Empress, was born on June 25, 1884, and is the daughter of the late Prince Kujo, a noble of the first rank.

Hirohito, Crown Prince, first son of the Emperor, was born on April 29, 1901. He was proclaimed Crown Prince on September 9, 1912 and appointed Captain of the army and Lieutenant of the Navy in 1916, to be promoted to Major and Lt.-Commander in 1919.

Prince Hirohito visited Europe in 1921, calling at Hong Kong on the way.

He was appointed Regent in November of 1921 on account of the Emperor's illness. His engagement to Princess Masako Kuni-no-miya was formally sanctioned in June of 1922, and the marriage followed in due course.

Yasuhito, Chichibu-no-miya, second son of the Emperor was born on June 25, 1902.

On his attaining his majority in 1922 he founded a new house by the Imperial order.

Prince Chichibu graduated from the Military Academy in July of 1922, and is attached to the Imperial Guards Division.

He is now on his way back from England, whither he went to study at Oxford University.

Nobuhito, Takamatsu-no-miya, third son of the Emperor was born on January 3, 1905. He is studying at the Naval Academy.

Takahito, Sumi-no-miya, the fourth son of the Emperor, was born on December 2, 1915.

Japan's New Emperor. His Royal Highness, Crown Prince Hirohito, the first son of the Emperor, was born on April 29, 1901. Leaving school in 1914, he continued his education under private tutors, history, geography, moral philosophy and the natural sciences claiming his particular interest, and in all these subjects he is deeply read. His interest in science and natural history is evidenced by the excellent collection now to be found in the small private museum founded by the Prince. His interest in the arts also has not been merely academic, since he has proved himself a painter of some merit, his habit being to make little studies of picturesque landscapes and an object of striking beauty or interest observed by him. He was given the title of Crown Prince in November, 1916, attained his majority in May, 1919, and was appointed Regent on November 25, 1921.

The European Tour.

Upon formal completion of his education, he set out on the European tour, in fulfillment of the wish of the late Emperor, and this he accomplished with marked ability and success—for it was an enterprise by no means light. Indeed, in many respects, it was an exciting ordeal, and the Japanese people watched with as much anxiety as deep interest the progress of the Prince, and naturally were highly gratified at the manner in which he distinguished himself. A memorable incident of the tour was the Prince's reception at the Grand Hotel, where over 1,000 distinguished guests gathered to give him greeting. In silence and an atmosphere almost of solemnity the Prince was conducted to the platform from which addresses of welcome were delivered, and when his turn came to speak he responded with a brilliant speech, a performance which completely overcame any misgivings as to how he might meet the demands of so important an occasion. The tour was a personal triumph for the Prince and further established him in the esteem and popularity of his people.

Prince Regent.

Returning to Japan and entering on the important duties of Regent, Prince Hirohito at once manifested great energy and practical ability, applying himself very thoroughly to a variety of affairs, and constantly being in touch with men of authority in science, art and education as well as of government, and in intercourse of this kind he has shown personal ability of no mean quality and an inexhaustible interest in affairs of the day. The Prince is very keen on sport, and his principal recreations are riding and golfing. He has given a lead in encouraging a variety of games, supporting Western innovations and at the same time maintaining interest in the national games of Japan.

Prince Hirohito was very deeply concerned in the fate of the unfortunate victims of the great earthquake and spared no personal effort in visiting and comforting the people in various parts of the devastated areas and assisting in devising means for their help.

A Finance Committee meeting of the Legislative Council will be held on Tuesday morning, when financial votes totalling $20,345 will be submitted for approval.

NEW CRUISERS.

MERELY "ROUNDING OFF
NAVY."

AMERICA & DISARMAMENT.

Washington, Dec. 25. President Coolidge has made a statement reiterating that the move to increase the Navy by ten cruisers is merely meant to round off the Navy, not to stir up competitive naval construction.

Referring to his proposal that the United States should call another armaments conference for the reduction of armaments, either through the proposed League of Nations disarmament conference or through another Washington conference he said that this would tend to reduce taxation all over the world to enable Europe earlier to reach economic stabilization. The proposed conference which was suggested by the United States should deal with matters left undecided at the previous conference. — Reuter's American Service.

LANDAU INCIDENT.

FRENCH PRESIDENT REMITS SENTENCES.

Paris, Dec. 24. President Doumergue has signed a decree remitting all sentences of the six Germans in connection with the Gernersheim affair. — Reuter.

Paris, Dec. 25. M. Painleve has informed the Cabinet that General Guillaumat commanding the Army of the Rhine has recommended the President of the Republic to exercise his prerogative and pardon the six Germans sentenced in the Landau case.

The court martial into the French and German affair at Gernersheim on September 27 when two French soldiers collided with several Germans, one of whom, Mueller, was killed, and another, Mathes, was wounded by shrapnel from the French, resulted in the French Lieutenant Rouzier being acquitted. Mathes was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and minor sentences were passed on five other Germans.

JAVA REVOLT.

Batavia, Dec. 25.

The court has passed the death sentence on three men who tried to stir up rebellion, one of whom murdered a policeman.

One other rebel has been condemned to life imprisonment and one to twenty years' imprisonment. — Reuter.

HINDU LEADER'S DEATH.

Delhi, Dec. 25.

Hundreds of thousands of Hindus, including members of the "untouchable" class, attended the funeral of Swami Shradhanand.

A huge demonstration followed the cremation. The proceedings were orderly except for a few minor incidents in connection with which six Mohammedans have been arrested for stone throwing. — Reuter.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

NATIONALIST MINISTRY'S PROVINCE.

CIRCULAR TO OFFICIALS.

When the Portuguese Consul-General at Canton, as the dean of the Consular Corps at Shamen handed (on behalf of the Diplomatic Corps at Peking) a Note of protest to the Nationalist Foreign Ministry, the Note was returned on the ground that the Ministers of foreign nations at Peking were not accredited to the Nationalist Government.

"Diplomatic Policy."

Now the Nationalist Ministry of Foreign Affairs has sent the following circular letter to all their governmental organisations as follows:—

"In accordance with article No. 5 of the 10th resolution passed at the joint conference of the members of the central executive council of Kuomintang and the delegates of the various provincial, city and special Kuomintangs, concerning recent diplomatic policies, in which it is stated that the Kuomintang members, being under the direction of the political council of the central executive committee, should be unanimously in favour of such policies; that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs should take the special responsibility of carrying out these policies; and that this right of dealing with foreign affairs, and of directing diplomatic policies, should not be usurped by any organisation or any individual, this Ministry must take the necessary action to unify diplomatic dealings.

Procedure Laid Down.

"It is to be feared, however, that the Consuls of various nations, or other foreign representatives may send dispatches directly to various organisations other than the proper diplomatic organ, thus giving rise to complications. So it is necessary to instruct the various organisations to return such dispatches at once, and also not to send communications direct to any foreign Consul or foreign Government.

"Please instruct your subordinates to take note of the above."

PRESENT AT BRUSSELS
HIGH MASS.

Brussels, Dec. 25.

INDIA'S POLITICS.

Gauhati, Assam, Dec. 25.

Finding that the delegates from Bengal, Bihar and Assam are in command of an overwhelming majority of the Indian National Congress opening on December 26, which owing to its proximity will be the meeting place, the Responsivists have decided not to fight this session, but to watch developments in the hope that the Swarajists themselves will modify their policy during the first year's working of the new legislatures.

Mr. Eshoptkar, President of the Responsivists, has telegraphed from Poona declaring that the boycotting of the Councils has been tried and found wanting, and obstruction has been found wrong in principle and pernicious in practice.

Ghandi has arrived. There is an indication that the Congress session will be a tame affair of Swarajist domination.

The final election returns showed that the nominees of the Indian National Congress maintained the Swarajists' strength in the All-Indian National Assembly and the Bengal Council. They increased their numbers materially in the Madras, Bihar, and Assam Councils, but suffered reverses in Bombay, the Central Province, the Punjab and the United Provinces. Nevertheless, except in a couple of cases, they formed the largest single political group, though they do not hold an absolute majority in any council.

A meeting of the Legislative Council will be held this week on Friday afternoon. The orders of the day contain the following new Bills, the first reading of which will be proposed by the Hon. Attorney General:—Bill intituled an Ordinance to amend the Interpretation Ordinance, 1911, and Bill intituled an Ordinance to amend the Promissory Oath Ordinance, 1909.

INDIAN CONGRESS.

Full Dominion Status
Demanded.

OBSTRUCTIVE POLICY URGED.

Gauhati, Dec. 24. Over 2,500 delegates and 8,000 visitors were present at the opening of the Nationalist Congress which for the first time is being held in Assam.

Srinivasa Iyengar, former Advocate General of Madras, in a presidential address, asserted that no scheme of self-government would be acceptable which denied the full control of the civil services, the military, naval and air forces, and the political relations of the Indian States and refused India Dominion status on the same terms as were determined at the Imperial Conference.

Iyengar advocated cultural and business association between Asiatic countries and promised full support for Indians striving for equal status overseas.

The Swarajist leader, Motilal Nehru, moved for continuance of the policy involving non-acceptance of Government offices, refusal of supplies, and rejection of the budget.

The Assembly member, Phookan, while admitting that British rule had brought some improvement, charged the Government with poisoning the people of Assam by carrying out the immoral traffic in opium. — Reuter.

BISHOP'S MESSAGE.

ADDRESS AT ST. ANDREWS,
KOWLOON.

WORLD TOUR REFLECTIONS.

The Bishop of London, who visited the Diocesan Girls' School and Blind Home yesterday afternoon, preached at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, yesterday, to a large congregation.

The Bishop took as his text "The mighty God has spoken." At the outset, he referred to the pleasure it gave him to address a gathering in his native tongue after many meetings where he had to speak through the medium of an interpreter.

The beauty of God's mind and the greatness of his power were themes which the Bishop discoursed on. As evidence of the former, one had such beautiful spots as Hong Kong and the "Land of Flowers" through which he had recently passed. The limitless powers of God were illustrated in the millions of "blazing suns" he had created and held in the hollow of his hand. It was a significant fact that the noted astronomers of the day were markedly more religious than those who had not such opportunities for studying the eternity of God's mind as evidenced in his works.

An Early Decision.

Emphasising the necessity for making an early decision in regard to religion, the Bishop spoke of the practice of many parents to direct their children to "wait until you are 19 and then you can choose your religion." He had encountered this tendency particularly in America in the course of his present tour. "I call this perfectly wicked," the Bishop said. Children might as well be told not to use their muscles until they were 19.

In the course of his remarks, the Bishop referred to "a certain amount of friction" which seemed to exist in countries where missionary work was progressing, between the commercial section and those engaged in missionary work. The missionaries were working disinterestedly and were in a position in the majority of cases to help considerably in the matter of education. The Governments of the various places were gradually realising this as was evidenced by the action recently of the Government in Africa in asking the co-operation of the missionaries in educational purposes. The Bishop appealed for greater harmony in relationships among peoples working in foreign lands.

In conclusion, the Bishop gave his hearers two mottoes which had served to help him through his life: "Take one day at a time and trust the Holy Spirit to see you through," and "Look straight into the light and you will always have the shadow behind." With these thoughts he left them with the assurance that if they were applied to their daily problems much that had before been difficult would become smooth.

"Sunday Herald" Soccer Surprise.

INTERNATIONAL CUP TIE.

Portugal, the Holders, Lose to China.

(By W.P.C.)

Odds of 7 to 1 which I saw offered and accepted on the ground on Saturday against China were surprisingly upset when Portugal, holders of the "Sunday Herald" International Football Cup were knocked out in the first match of this year's tournament.

No wonder the Chinese crowd of about 10,000 strong literally went mad after the game. Even if China fail to succeed in the final against the winners of to-day's tie, her soccer prestige has been restored to the pitch attained when the S.C.A.A. (with a sprinkling of Northerners) combination returned from the tour in Australia and the local first eleven won the Hong Kong League.

On the form shown yesterday—even though it may be necessary to make a change or two—Hong Kong is more than likely to provide the players to represent China at the next Far Eastern Olympiad, with every chance of winning again.

Beaten for Speed.

From another point of view, the Chinese (who had eight men from the Athletic) paid off an old score in the shape of a 5-1 defeat at the hands of the Club de Recreio recently in the League.

The "babes of the senior division"—now potential champions—had the honour of representing Portugal exclusively.

I will not go so far as to say that the holders of the local international trophy crumpled up in adversity. Rather, they were met by a team which had learnt a lesson—that of the necessity of shooting every time and of being robust as well as merely clever.

For speed, the Portugal or Recreio team—call them which ever you please—were beaten.

Against a stubborn defence which clung on desperately the Portuguese forwards were not nearly so dangerous as of yore. By sticking to the Portugal vanguard and tackling them instead of waiting for their own half backs to return, Ng Kam-chuen and Lai Yuk-tat distinguished themselves and prevented their opponents from scoring.

Hero of the Game.

But Tso Kwai-shing, the nippy little forward from Shanghai (who came down when Wong Shui-wa returned to the Colony after a sojourn in the North) was the hero of the day.

China:—Eau Ka-ping (Chinese Athletic); Ng Kam-chuen (Athletic); Lai Yuk-tat (Athletic); Ko Sik-wai (South China A.A.); Wong Shui-wa (Athletic); Lam Yuk-ying (Athletic); Tso Kwai-shing (Athletic); Fung King-cheung (South China); Chan So (South China); Stan Kam-chun (Athletic); Chan Kwong-yi (Athletic).

Portugal:—M. M. da Silva; W. C. O'Leary; P. M. Xavier; C. F. Remedios; A. A. dos Remedios; H. C. Remedios; J. M. da Silva; A. P. Euerles; A. Gosano; L. A. da Rocha; A. J. Brown (all of Club de Recreio).

Referee: Mr. Phillips. Linesmen: Messrs. Lawrence and O'Neil.

Old Policy Followed.

As stated, Portugal nominated the whole of the Recreio team to defend her title. China used the Athletic side as a nucleus and made changes here and there. Chan So, the S.C.A.A. left back came in as leader of the attack and gave a creditable account of himself, holding his line together and using his two uncanny wings to the best advantage.

Fung King-cheung, South China's centre forward, came in as right inside to partner Tso, who went out to the extreme position while Ng Kam-chuen retired to his more familiar position in the defence. Ko Sik-wai's speed and size added strength to the halves.

Having found the policy to have paid so often in the past, the Portuguese team relied on vigour and speed, backed up by machine-like combination.

How Two Goals Were Scored.

Instead of having the upper hand while the other side found their feet, they were hemmed in from the start. To round off the surprise they did not go to pieces when two goals behind but put even more vim into their rushes.

Chances were certainly missed in both halves. For once the Recreio vanguard were inaccurate when in front of the enemy's citadel. And to crown all, Gosano, their crack shot, missed a penalty!

Then China were already one goal up. In the second half they clinched matters by getting another. Both these two goals came directly from Tso Kwai-shing. Midway in the first half, he took the ball down brilliantly down the right wing and centred beautifully to the left inside (Suen Kam-shun, the best opportunist in the Chinese front line).

When Individualism Paid.

Suen was left unmarked for just that fraction of a second when the Portuguese rear guard had been drawn by Tso's spectacular run and he made no mistake, heading the leather into goal before M. M. da Silva could take stock of his position. Coming like a flash, the ball was in before anybody had realised that the scoring had been opened. How the densely packed crowd cheered!

The second goal was even more remarkable for brilliance. Twenty minutes from the end, Tso set off instantly a pass went out to him and raced down the wing, dribbling past each defender who tried to balk him. Swerving in from the touch line, he worked in a little closer and banged the ball into the net with the Portuguese goalie standing.

After the first goal and before the interval, Gosano was entrusted with a penalty kick and Ban Kaping brought off a fine save, if a trifle lucky to do so at the expense of a corner. There was no alternative as Gosano had followed up his shot and was dangerously close.

Science or Rough Play?

The Chinese custodian was also at the very top of his form, once going full length on the grass to deal with a bang from Gosano.

Gosano, as Hong Kong's last interport centre forward, played a sterling game, but he missed narrowly on two or three occasions when he might have scored. His colleagues backed him up well in the open by their punt and rush tactics but failed at the critical moment to find their target.

When his side was sorely pressed, Gosano fluctuated between forward and pivot as is his wont but he pre-Holiday For Scottish Forwards Indicated.

This time of the year Home soccer is usually associated with surprising results in the league when the holiday feeling causes strange doings.

Some of the reputedly strong teams lost to opponents weaker on paper and quite a number of clubs won away fixtures. Two games produced 7-3 scorers, another ended 8-7, and there were 5-4, 7-2 and a 3-5 in the English League. On the other hand, forwards in division I of the Scottish League must have had a real holiday as many sides failed to score and quite a few shared the points.

That the soccer was abnormal is evident from a cursory glance but the Home players, as this year saved from the bugbear of a heavy programme because Christmas and New Year fall on Saturdays, thereby making for two days less from an arduous week.

To-day there is practically another full day and results will be given to-morrow.

DIVORCE SUIT.

TRIALS OF COAST-OFFICER'S WIFE.

"12 LONG, WEARY YEARS."

In H.B.M.'s Supreme Court recently before Judge Peter Grain, Mrs. Emily Edith Lucan sought to obtain a dissolution of her marriage with Thomas R. Lucan, a marine officer formerly employed in the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company and the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company, on the grounds of cruelty and adultery. Mr. A. Y. Ting represented the petitioner. Respondent was unrepresented.

As in all divorce cases now coming before the Judge of H.B.M.'s Supreme Court in China, Counsel was first required to prove domicile of the respondent before evidence could be taken. After reading the petition, which was one of the longest documents of its kind ever used in a divorce case in the local British Court, Mr. Ting described the marriage of his client to the respondent, which took place on May 29, 1914, as "twelve and a half long, weary years" and a "most unhappy marriage." In that petition, a long succession of cruelties, infidelities and adulteries on the part of the respondent was described together with dates and places with reference to each specific offence. According to the petition, respondent was a decided inebriate and delirium tremens was more than once mentioned in the course of the reading of the petition. Drink had been the chief cause of the marriage being an unhappy one, it being responsible for respondent losing several good positions, and his being forced to depend upon his loyal wife's earnings as governess and manageress of a private hotel.

Respondent had more than once been sent away from Shanghai in order that he might get a fresh start in some other port where he was still unknown for what he was, but he inevitably drifted back to Shanghai and lived upon his wife who felt that further repetition of several "scenes" when he returned on these occasions, would likely endanger her own position. Divorce was the only course to be taken.

Court Martial.

In order to prove domicile, petitioner took the witness stand. She stated that they had been married at Birkenhead, England, at the time stated above, and shortly after their marriage, when war broke out, her husband joined the Navy. He only stayed one year in this service, being dismissed following court-martial for insubordination and drunkenness. His reputation being then well known to every shipping company at home, they decided to emigrate to Australia and arrived in Western Australia where the husband worked on the land for several months to very little purpose.

Finally they both crossed the continent to Sydney where respondent endeavoured to secure a position on one of the Australian coasting vessels. He did not meet with much success, and finally accepted a berth as Chief Officer on a vessel leaving for China. Upon arrival here he joined Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., and nine months later sent for his wife. Petitioner arrived in Shanghai in February of last year. She found her husband quite satisfied with his job but more than ever addicted to drink. He lost his job with the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company early this year but never at any time lost his liking for drink.

At Hong Kong Races.

Realising that his prospects for another position in Shanghai were somewhat remote, petitioner then raised $1,000 after much effort and sent her husband back to Australia. He disembarked at Hong Kong, however, lost most of the money she had given him at the races and returned to Shanghai within two weeks—broke. He then succeeded in getting a post with the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company but drink continued to be his chief concern and he lost that job also. His wife then decided to send him a draft instead of cash for his expenses. He went to Singapore and remained there for five months, returning in October last—as usual.

He immediately went to where his wife was employed and created a scene. "This is the only place in the world where he can get a job," declared petitioner in an attempt to prove domicile. "He knows that he can never get another job at home."

This concluded petitioner's evidence, and Counsel asked His Lordship's permission to call a witness to assist in proving domicile. This witness would state what respondent had said to him on a number of occasions as to his intentions to remain in China. The witness was called and testified that respondent, who was well known to him, had often expressed a desire remain in China.

Judge's Regrets.

His Lordship feared, however, that such evidence did not help very much. "I regret to say," said His Lordship, "that there is no evidence of domicile in China so far. No doubt the petitioner has been extremely ill-treated and she deserves sympathy. But domicile must be proved according to a comparatively recent law affecting countries wherein extrajurisdictional privileges are enjoyed by Britons."

"The evidence only shows, as a matter of fact, that respondent intends to remain where his wife is, so that 'he can live on her. Even now, you say, he is not in Shanghai and petitioner does not know where he is. On the facts there is not a little of evidence to show that he has a permanent intention of remaining in China. Therefore I have no jurisdiction to try the question of dissolution of marriage."

His Lordship then suggested to Counsel that his client apply for a judicial separation, which he could grant. He had no doubt, however, that if divorce proceedings were instituted in an English Court they would be favourable to the petitioner, but Counsel said that cost of same would be prohibitive.

The idea of a judicial separation, His Lordship said, would be to prevent respondent molesting the petitioner in future. "I regret very much," said His Lordship, "that there is not sufficient evidence of domicile. On the contrary the evidence tends to show that the respondent does not intend to remain here. He will probably end up in the South Seas in a sailing ship."

The petition was then dismissed and a judicial separation will likely be applied for in due course.

MR. K. SMITH DEAD.

WELL-KNOWN PLANTER AND MINER.

News has been received of the death in Portugal of the well-known Malayan proprietary planter and miner Mr. W. Kellie Smith.

Mr. Kellie Smith, who resided in Malaya for many years and had extensive property at Batu Gajah, was originally an engineer, and built the section of the F.M.S. Railway from Kampar to Teluk Anson.

Subsequently he took up coffee planting and later, in the early days of the rubber industry, he was one of the first to become interested in the new product. He was the owner of the old Kellias estate.

Mr. Kellie Smith was prominently connected with both the rubber and tin industries, and was probably the most successful European proprietary planter and miner in the country. He was well-known to a wide circle of friends and used to entertain largely at Batu Gajah.

Mr. Kellie Smith leaves a widow and daughter. He last visited Malaya in the early part of this year.

CHINA POLICY.

Home Press and the Memorandum.

"VITAL IMPORTANCE."

London, Dec. 26. Largely on account of the holiday season publication arrangements, the Sunday papers comment only very briefly on the British memorandum, which however, they recognise is a State paper of vital importance in its bearing on the Chinese situation.

The "Sunday Times" thinks that perhaps it will only be a question of a few weeks before the situation is ripe for negotiations in view of the fact that the Cantonese forces are steadily gaining the upper hand.

The paper therefore hopes that the other Powers will speedily concur with the British proposals which afford the best way of protecting all interests.

The "Observer" points out that the British Government has now formally urged what was privately urged for months—that the Powers think in terms of the present, not of the past, in their Chinese policy.—Reuter.

Views of Japan and France.

Paris, Dec. 26.

The death of the Emperor of Japan has been taken as an occasion by "Pertinax" in the "Echo de Paris" to express his opinion on Japan's foreign policy. He considers that Japan has profited from recent events in China since the anti-foreign outbreaks which chiefly affect the south, driving trade northwards, where Japan is entrenched. The "unforgettable slight," the denunciation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, will doubtless tend to make Japan persist in her attitude, and the British memorandum on a policy in China is obviously unlikely to attract Japan.

The "Oeuvre" understands that M. Briand does not disapprove of the British memorandum.—Reuter.

Belgium's Approval.

Brussels, Dec. 24.

It is understood that the Foreign Minister, M. Vandeveld, has given his approval to Britain's attitude towards China regarding the immediate conditional enforcement of the customs surtaxes as laid down by the Washington conference and also the carrying out in the most liberal spirit of the Extra-Territoriality Commission's recommendations.—Reuter.

7/1 ODDS UPSET.

ferred to keep further up once Portugal got into arguments. For some unaccountable reason, the Portuguese defence did not kick as surely as they can do and have done. Perhaps it may have been, perhaps it may be, or to desiring to "mix matters" more than necessary. True, they went in for fair play charges but experts have always maintained that a tendency to over-estimate for rough play has its disadvantages.

Thrills and Excitement. Adapting himself to requirements, Chay So had some stubborn sort of one of which he was injured and had to retire from the struggle.

Both sides played clever and purposeful football. The Chinese forwards also missed chances but they made amends by beating the Portuguese more often for possession and were more accurate in the open.

Summed up, the fortunes then amounted to play being more often in Portugal's territory, thus adding anxiety to the back lines which were not over-rendent. When Gosano & Co. crossed over in China's half, they were either held back or their shooting went wrong while their positional play and timing remained right.

Thrills there were in plenty, both goals having narrow escape. Incidents in midfield were also of the spicy variety so that the vast holiday attendance had a full run for their money.

TO-DAY'S MATCH.

Also on the H.K.F.C. ground (kick-off at 3.45 p.m.) to-day, England and Scotland meet in the other eliminating tie for the right to contest the final with China.

England and China have yet to inscribe their names on the splendid trophy provided by the "Sunday Herald" and through the medium of which large sums have been raised for charity. In the season before last, Scotland beat China in the final of a triangular tournament. Last season Portugal beat England in the final, it being the former's first attempt. To-day's teams are:—

FORCED TO MARRY.

Rome, November 24.—The text of the decree of the Sacred Roman Rota Tribunal, annulling the marriage of the Duke of Marlborough with Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, affirms that there was a prior attachment on the part of the Duchess. The marriage was unhappy from the start, which all the witnesses had confirmed, including the Duke and Duchess and Mrs. Vanderbilt. According to Miss Vanderbilt has now been given the necessary liberty to contract and make a valid marriage.

"LIKE TAME LION."

INDIAN BANK CASE AGAIN

REMANDED.

Diwan Mangel Sen, the Indian who told Mr. R. B. Lindsay that he followed the Police "like a tame lion in a circus," was again remanded for two days at the Magistrate's this morning.

Det. Sgt. A. H. Elston said that instructions were still awaited from the Government of Punjab, on whose warrant defendant had been arrested while on board the

"Taima," with a ticket from Shanghai to Peking.

Defendant is described as a former managing director of an Indian bank and insurance company wanted by the Lahore Police.

CRIMINALS ESCAPE.

KEYS OF ASYLUM STOLEN

FROM WATCHMAN.

In the early hours of the morning of December 15, six Chinese criminals, all of whom have been convicted of serious offences, and who had been sent to the Singapore lunatic asylum for observation, escaped from their place of confinement, and have not yet been rearrested.

During the night, the prisoners, in some way or other, took the keys from the Chinese watchman and escaped, leaving the door of the "pen" open.

There were 42 other lunatics with them, but fortunately none of them took the opportunity to escape.
